OUR STORY

Wingaru means 'to think' in Dharug, the language group of the family behind Wingaru Education. We are passionate about the role Aboriginal education plays in creating a fairer Australia through truth telling and the sharing of knowledge.

SHARING KNOWLEDGE

We specialise in the design, creation and implementation of accessible Aboriginal education resources and programs for every stage of life, from kindergarten to the corporate sector.

OUR MISSION

To change the way Australia thinks and talks about Aboriginal People and the issues impacting our communities, by supporting greater understanding and shared knowledge within the wider community.

We believe education plays a vital role, not only in closing the gap in outcomes for Aboriginal people but also as the basis for true reconciliation between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal people.

We are committed to creating high-quality resources and programs to support all Australians as they embark on this important education journey, no matter what stage of learning they are at.

100% Aboriginal-owned education specialist.

Connected

We work closely with communities, schools, educators, business and government.

Experience

Our educators have over 65 years education experience between them.

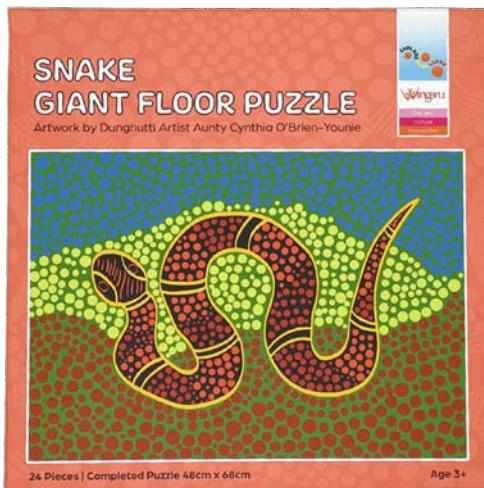

Dharug Mob

We are Dharug mob from the Booraboorongal Clan.
